The new Hollywood? What is Bollywood?

“Bollywood” is the name of the enormous Hindi-language movie industry based in Mumbai, India. The name is a mix of “Bombay” (now known as Mumbai) and “Hollywood.” Bollywood’s output makes it the largest national movie industry in the world in terms both of the number of movies produced and the number of tickets sold, though not in terms of profit. In 2006, Bollywood movies sold 3.8 billion tickets worldwide and had total revenues (from theater tickets, DVDs, and television licensing) of $1.6 billion. In the same year, movies made in Hollywood sold 2.7 billion tickets but generated $51 billion.

Bollywood attracts thousands of aspiring actors, all hoping for a lucky break. As in Hollywood, very few succeed. Only a tiny number of non-Indian actors make a mark in Bollywood, though many have tried.

History

The first silent movie was made in India in 1913. By the 1930s, the industry was producing over 200 movies a year. The first movie with dialogue, Alam Ara, was a huge hit. At first, romantic musicals were the most common type of movie, but in the 1960s, action movies began to appear and these became increasingly popular. However, in the early 1990s, the trend went back to family-friendly musicals. Bollywood is now a strong part of modern culture not only in India, but also in the rest of South Asia, the Middle East, and parts of Africa. It also has a large audience in the UK, Canada, and the US.

Money and challenges

Bollywood budgets can be low by Hollywood standards, and sets and special effects can be limited by this. As Western movies and TV programs gain popularity in India, however, there is more pressure for Bollywood movies to have higher production values. Movie crews from Mumbai now often film abroad, as audiences enjoy scenes shot overseas.

The biggest challenges facing Bollywood in India are from satellite TV and foreign movies, which are all having a massive impact on the domestic entertainment scene. In the past, most Bollywood movies could make money. Now fewer do, but it is still a successful and increasingly international industry.

Example: Mumbai used to be known as Bombay.

PROGRESS TEST 4-7

AEF3 T18 Listening 1

Jason If I could be anyone in the world, I'd like to be my cousin Fernando. You could say that he's my hero, but the truth is that I'm really jealous of him because he's so talented. I don't know him that well, but I try to follow his career. He looks like a pop star and he loves fast cars. He competes in racing competitions all over the world, but mostly in France, Portugal, and Spain, which is where he was born. He's won a couple of important races, and he has lots of money and a beautiful girlfriend. He's also still really young. I think he's about 22, not much more.

When I was a teenager, my family and I used to visit Fernando and his brothers on the coast. He was very small, but even then he was very brave and ambitious. He used to do really dangerous things that we older kids were never confident enough to do. Of course, what he does now is really dangerous, and I asked him once if he ever felt nervous or scared before a race. He told me that he only thought of winning.

PROGRESS TEST 4-7

AEF3 T19 Listening 2

- 1
- Cindy Have you kept in touch with old friends from high school, Peter?
- Peter Well... it's strange who you keep in touch with, isn't it? Jack was probably my best friend in high school, and we used to live together when we were in college, but then he went to Australia – and, well, I haven't seen him for ages. Joe, on the other hand, was in the same class but never a great friend. But now we've been neighbors for years, so I see him all the time.
- 2
- Will Amber, what would your dream house be like?
- Amber Well, I like the country and the mountains, but I wouldn't want to live there – and I don't like little cottages or dark, old houses. So, it would have to be a bright and spacious house and near the beach. I'd like huge windows and a balcony.
- 3
- Charles Do you have much free time now that you've started your new job, Sue?
- Sue I've got a lot, actually. I work longer hours – too many, some would say – but I don't have to travel so far to work, so I get home earlier and less tired.
- 4
- John Hi, Diane.
- Diane Hi.
- John So... did Nick call?
- Diane Yes, he did. He asked me if I wanted to go away with him for the weekend.
- John Hmm... and?...
- Diane Well, I told him I'd think about it. I'd really like to go, but I have a lot of work right now.
- 5
- Man Ma'am. Could you tell me if this is your suitcase?
- Woman No, mine has a leather handle and it's a little smaller than that one. In fact, although they are both the same color, this one looks new while mine is very old.
