

5B VOCABULARY Money

● Complete the sentence with a 'money' word or phrase so that both sentences mean the same.

- The bank lent me some money specifically to buy a house.
I got a _____ from the bank.
- Peter lent Luke £100.
Peter gave Luke a £100 _____.
- She's paying for the car bit by bit.
She's paying for the car in _____.
- My lawyer charged me a lot for his services.
My lawyer's _____ for his services were very high.
- It's incredible how expensive a train ticket from London to Manchester is.
The train _____ from London to Manchester is incredibly expensive.
- I gave my favourite charity some money last week.
I made a _____ to my favourite charity last week.
- The money used in France and Italy is the same – it's the Euro.
The _____ is the same in France and Italy – it's the Euro.
- How many pounds do I get for $100 today?
What's the pound to dollar _____ today?
- The company owes a lot of money.
The company is heavily _____.
- Everything's more expensive than it was this time last year.
The _____ is higher now than it was this time last year.
- My friend is incredibly wealthy.
My friend's _____.
- I don't have any money at the moment, so I can't buy you a drink.
I'm _____ at the moment, so I can't buy you a drink.
- I don't know how some people can afford to spend three thousand pounds per person on a cruise.
I don't know how some people can afford to spend three _____ per person on a cruise.
- If possible, it's best to pay your credit card off as a sum at one time and not on separate occasions.
If possible, it's best to pay your credit card off as a _____.
- New clothes are a waste of money and I'd never spend more than ten pounds on something to wear.
New clothes are a waste of money and I'd never spend more than ten _____ on something to wear.
- The government gave me some money to study abroad.
I was given a _____ by the government to study abroad.
- Luckily I'd put some money away in the bank so I could pay to have the roof repaired after the storm.
Luckily I had some _____ in the bank so I was able to pay to have the roof repaired after the storm.
- When I got my new flat I had to pay one month's rent in advance.
I had to pay a _____ of one month's rent when I got my new flat.

