

Worksheet A

1 Read out your sentences for your partner to correct the underlined words.

- 1 _____ dislikes people from other parts of the country. There's no real reason for it, I think he's/she's just neurotic.
- 2 _____ is a truly obstinate person. So many people have gone on to create great things after hearing him/her speak.
- 3 _____ often has a lot of 'big' ideas, which always end up being too big to work. He's/She's a bit perceptive, I think.
- 4 _____ always considers and listens to our ideas, even if he/she doesn't agree with them. It's good that he's/she's so insensitive.
- 5 _____ is naturally conscientious. He's/She's always asking questions about where I've been, things I've bought, etc. I think he's/she's just nosy!
- 6 _____ is a very rebellious person. He/She always likes being on his/her own, and whenever you invite him/her out, he/she always finds an excuse not to come.
- 7 _____ is so mature when it comes to studying/working. I sometimes wonder what he's/she's doing in that position if he's/she's not interested!

Worksheet B

1 Read out your sentences for your partner to correct the underlined words.

- 1 _____ is so apathetic. Even when she's/he's clearly wrong, she/he won't change her/his mind!
- 2 _____ is quite a solitary person. She/He always knows when I'm having a problem, even when I've hidden it well from everyone else.
- 3 _____ is so inquisitive. She's/He's always panicking and thinking there's something wrong with her/his health, at the slightest sign of anything unusual.
- 4 _____ is very over-ambitious for her/his age. We often have conversations about things I can usually only speak to other adults about.
- 5 _____ can be really inspirational at times. Whenever she/he sees someone upset, she/he just ignores them.
- 6 _____ is the kind of person who would take work with them to do on holiday, if it wouldn't get done otherwise. She's/He's really open-minded.
- 7 _____ often does things just to be 'different', and as a consequence often gets into trouble for it. She's/He's just a prejudiced person, I think.
