Hi!

I'm writing this postcard in English but I'm sure I'm making lots of mistakes! I don't write English very °good! Anyway, I'm here in London! I'm writing this in Hyde Park and there are lots of persons here! There's a man °sell ice creams next to us, and Julio is buying some from him. It's hot ... yes, in England! It's great – there are lots of office workers °sit in the park and everyone is having fun... The only problem is some °childrens are playing football next to us and they're making lots of noise.

OK, we're in London. How °much museums do we want to see? Um ... °No! Museums are boring! We're here to party and to go shopping! But London's °realy expensive. You can °easy spend all your money in one day! We want to see a musical too but we °don't can buy any tickets: everywhere is sold out. I'm not very °happily about that ... but that's life!

See you soon!

Dear Samantha

Last year I started work as an admin assistant at an international law firm. I like it because I speak English and French and I do lots of interesting things on the computer – I'm very good at that! But now my life isn't healthy! I work from 9 to 6 and I don't exercise. I'm now 62 kilos and I was 55 before I started this job. I'm 1 metre 57 and I'm a teenager ... but only for four weeks! (My birthday's next month).

Help!

Gemma

A lot of people in offices have the same problem. My advice is to cycle to the office and cycle home. Or walk at lunchtime to the park or the shops. That's good too.

A lot of people in offices eat all the time. They eat a lot of crisps and chocolate. This is a bad idea! Only have breakfast, lunch and dinner. Then it's easy to control the kilos.

Also, get a new hobby for one evening a week. A dance class is good fun. You learn new things and exercise.

But don't worry about the kilos now, because you're very young! It's not a big problem!

My first love – Kate Rush

I often think of my last year at <sup>0</sup>school. That was <sup>1</sup>_____ year I met my first love. It was <sup>2</sup>_____ boy in my science class – his name was Ricky. He had <sup>3</sup>_____ long brown hair and blue eyes. He was really handsome! He also played <sup>4</sup>_____ football with my brother. They were on <sup>5</sup>_____ same team – and Ricky was <sup>6</sup>_____ captain! He was great, but he already had <sup>7</sup>_____ girlfriend. Her name was Candace, and she was from <sup>8</sup>_____ USA. I was so jealous! But next year, I went to <sup>9</sup>_____ university – and Ricky was on my course! He was single then, and we went for <sup>10</sup>_____ ice-cream on our first day. He asked me out then, and finally, he became my boyfriend!
